The NDIA has a policy of strict compliance with federal and state antitrust laws. The antitrust laws prohibit competitors from engaging in actions that could result in an unreasonable restraint of trade. Consequently, NDIA members must avoid discussing certain topics when they are together at formal association membership, board, committee, and other meetings and in informal contacts with other industry members: prices, fees, rates, profit margins, or other terms or conditions of sale (including allowances, credit terms, and warranties); allocation of markets or customers or division of territories; or refusals to deal with or boycotts of suppliers, customers or other third parties, or topics that may lead participants not to deal with a particular supplier, customer or third party.

BG Gail Atkins, USA

Commander, DLA Land and Maritime

BG Gail Atkins assumed command of DLA Land and Maritime, Columbus, OH, July 22, 2022.

In her previous assignment she served as Deputy Commanding General for Support, 7th Infantry Division, Joint Base Lewis-McChord, WA.

As DLA Land and Maritime Commander, she oversees the end-to-end integration of the Land and Maritime Supply Chains delivering repair parts to all Military Services. She directs the efforts of more than 2,600 associates at 37 locations worldwide, to include three DLA Depot Level Repairable detachments and four detachments supporting U.S. Naval Shipyards. DLA Land and Maritime's core functions include purchasing materiel, monitoring inventory levels, maintaining technical data, and assuring quality conformance of approximately two million spare and repair parts used by more than 19,000 military units and federal and civilian agencies. In 2021, DLA Land and Maritime's sales exceeded $3.9 billion.

Prior to her assignment with the 7th Infantry Division, Atkins served as executive officer to the deputy commanding general for Army Material Command at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama; and as commander of the Corpus Christi Army Depot in Corpus Christi, TX. Before assuming command of CCAD, Atkins served as the Force Support Division Chief for J-8 Force Structure, Resources, and Assessment Directorate, Joint Staff at the Pentagon in Washington, DC.

Operational assignments include brigade aviation officer for 25th Infantry Division's 4th Brigade Combat Team in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom and commander of the 122nd Aviation Support Battalion for 82nd Airborne Division's 82nd Combat Aviation Brigade in support of Operation Enduring Freedom.

Additional assignments throughout Atkins career include command of a helicopter flight detachment at Chièvres Air Base in Belgium providing direct rotary wing support to the Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Commander; commander of U.S. Special Operations Command's Headquarters and Headquarters Company; and air assault battalion operations officer for a 30-aircraft assault battalion.

Atkins holds a Bachelor of Science in Systems Engineering from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, a Master of Science in Logistics Management from the Florida Institute of Technology, and a Master of Science in National Resource Strategy from the Eisenhower School of the National Defense University.

Atkins is entitled to wear the Defense Superior Service Medal, Legion of Merit, Bronze Star Medal, Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Meritorious Service Medal, Air Medal, Joint Service Commendation Medal, Army Commendation Medal, Joint Service Achievement Medal and Army Achievement Medal as well as various unit and campaign awards.

Atkins has earned the Master Parachutist Badge, Senior Parachutist Badge, Parachutist Badge, Senior Army Aviator Badge and Basic Army Aviator Badge.

Brig Gen Sean Tyler, USAF

U.S. Air Force Commander, Defense Supply Center Richmond and DLA Aviation

Brig Gen Sean K. Tyler is the Commander of Defense Supply Center Richmond and Defense Logistics

Agency Aviation, Richmond, VA. DLA Aviation is a major subordinate command of DLA and is the agency's combat logistics and supply chain manager for aviation and nuclear assets across the Department of Defense. DLA Aviation is headquartered in Richmond and operates at 22 geographically separated sites across the United States and one location outside the continental U.S.

General Tyler's team is comprised of more than 4,000 civilian and military personnel supporting more than 2,341 weapons systems. He is the U.S. military's integrated material manager for more than 1.8 million national stock number items, industrial retail supply and depot-level reparable acquisitions resulting in over $5 billion in annual sales.

Additionally, he serves as base commander for Defense Supply Center Richmond, providing installation support, services, and security to 20 tenants, which includes a 2-star Virginia National Guard Joint Headquarters.

General Tyler received his commission through the Air Force Officer Training School, Maxwell Air Force Base, AL, in 1995. He graduated from Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL, with a Bachelor of Science in Finance and Real Estate. As a career logistics officer, he has served at the unit, major command, and headquarters Air Force levels and has deployed to Iraq, Afghanistan, and Kuwait. He has commanded a logistics readiness squadron, and expeditionary logistics readiness squadron, an expeditionary mission support group and an air base wing. Prior to this assignment, he served as the Director for Logistics, Engineering and Force Protection, Headquarters Pacific Air Forces, Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam, Honolulu, HI, where he was responsible for oversight, policy, guidance, training, and resources in support of 45,000 Pacific Air Forces personnel in 10 wings and three numbered air forces. He managed aircraft maintenance, munitions, transportation, supply, fuels, civil engineering, and anti-terrorism/force protection to support 396 total force combat aircraft and $42.3 billion of infrastructure. He directly supported deployment, basing, sustainment, and redeployment of Air Force component forces across the spectrum of engagements and operations throughout the theater.

Kenneth Watson

Deputy Commander, DLA Land and Maritime

Kenneth D. Watson, a member of the Senior Executive Service, is the Deputy Commander of Defense Logistics Agency Land and Maritime, located in Columbus, OH. In this capacity he is co-responsible for the logistics operations of more than 2,700 associates at 30 locations worldwide, to include three DLA Depot Level Repairable detachments, Army and Marine Corps industrial sites and four detachments supporting U.S. Naval shipyards and at deployed units. He is directly responsible for supply chain functions to include management of almost 2.5 million spare and repair parts. In FY2023, DLA Land and Maritime's sales exceeded $4.4 billion. He assumed his current post in October 2019.

Watson previously served as the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Materiel Readiness, serving as the principal advisor to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Sustainment, providing integration and oversight of the Department's annual $90 billion maintenance program. In this capacity he developed policies and procedures for materiel readiness and maintenance support of major weapon systems and military equipment within the Department of Defense.

Watson also served as the Deputy Director, Strategy, Capabilities, Policy, and Logistics, U.S. Transportation Command. During this assignment he deployed to Afghanistan as the Director of Sustainment under the Combined Security Transition Command – Afghanistan. He has served in numerous Joint assignments, serving as the Deputy Chief of the Capabilities Division in the Directorate of Logistics (J4), the Joint Staff, also deploying to Iraq under the Office of Security Cooperation – Iraq.

He is a 2011 graduate of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces at Fort Leslie J. McNair in Washington, DC and graduate of the Defense Senior Leader Development Program 2010 cohort. On the Air Staff he was the Deputy to the Associate Director of Resource Integration assigned to the Directorate of Resource Integration, Deputy Chief of Staff/Logistics, Installation & Mission Support, Pentagon, Washington DC. With the associate director, he was responsible for Air Force logistics, installations and mission support long-range planning, strategic support planning and associated policies.

Watson began his civil service career in 1989 as Palace Acquire Intern Inventory Management Specialist at McClellan Air Force Base in Sacramento, CA. His diverse experience includes Logistics Management for the F-117A and Commander in Chief Mobile Alternate Headquarters programs. He managed airborne electrical accessories for the Commodities Division at Sacramento Air Logistics Center. Watson served as a Logistics Plans specialist while assigned to HQ USAF on a Logistics Civilian Career Program career broadening position. He also performed logistics requirements analysis, Acquisition Program management, and was chief of the Strategic Planning Division, Plans and Programs Directorate, Oklahoma City Air Logistics Center, Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma.
